

Maintenance

Because of the design and the quality of the used materials, the BO-20 ASTM does not require any special maintenance measures. It is however important to clean the barrier entirely after each usage prior to putting it into the storage room.